

Assays developed by Future Diagnostics

Our expertise

Future Diagnostics developed more than 150 high quality products for the global in vitro diagnostic (IVD) device market.

We work with companies worldwide as an extension of their internal R&D and also with innovative companies that require assay development support and manufacturing services to bring new IVD products to market. The assays from Future Diagnostics are developed across many different disease areas. The profound experience makes us a trusted partner for Assay Development for any type of assay in any type of disease area.

